

What skilled trades occupation do you find more interesting and why?

Have you ever considered pursuing a career in a skilled trade? If yes, which one(s) and why?

What skills do you think are essential for success in skilled trades?

Can you think of any misconceptions or stereotypes associated with skilled trades? How would you address them?

Why do you think skilled trades are essential in our society?

Can you identify any local or global trends that could impact the skilled trades industry?

How do you imagine the skilled trades industry will change in the future?

What skilled trades job do you believe doesn't exist yet but will in the foreseeable future?

If you could build anything, what would it be? Why?

Have you ever participated in any activities or programs related to skilled trades exploration? If yes, what did you learn or enjoy about them?

What do you believe are the biggest benefits of pursuing a career in skilled trades?

What do you believe are the biggest challenges of pursuing a career in skilled trades?

How do skilled trades contribute to sustainable and environmentally friendly practices?

Is there an equal representation of genders in skilled trades? Why or why not?

Are there any skills or qualities you possess that would benefit a skilled trade?

Can you think of any individuals who either started or are currently in skilled trades and achieved significant accomplishments?

There is currently a shortage of skilled trades workers in Canada; what could be potential solutions to recruit more skilled trades workers?

Random question! Would you rather have the ability to perfectly hammer a nail into a surface with your nose or be able to levitate and float while performing skilled trades tasks magically?

Would you rather have the power to make any construction material dance and perform choreographed routines or be able to communicate fluently with talking power tools?

Would you rather work with a trade that allows creativity and artistic expression or one that focuses on precise technical skills?

Would you rather specialize in a trade that allows creativity and artistic expression or one that focuses on specific technical skills?

Which skilled trades do you believe requires the most creativity and why?

Would you rather work outdoors or indoors in your skilled trades career?

Would you rather work independently or as part of a team in your skilled trades career?

If you were a marketer, what would be your slogan for a company that works in the skilled trades industry?

